

Muslims Do Not Debate Rationally
By Skanda987

Below is a real example how a Muslim, posing a wise and peace loving intellectual in a kafir (mostly Hindus) forum debates without any rationality or acceptance of facts.

Dear Bhai,

Namaste!

I am interested to know:

What reasons you have to hold on to Islam please?

I am asking because I see no good reason;
and I believe that lasting peace in Bhaarat is possible if the Muslims of Bhaarat quit Islam,
the Muslims whose ancestors a few centuries ago were Hindus who were forced to accept Islam.

Now no one is forcing Islam on these Muslims.
So, they need to revert back to the religion of their ancestors, or at least give up Islam
because Islam has invaded by force in Bhaarat and it is anti-Vedic; so it does not belong there.

I am inviting you for friendly and rational discussion on the subject.

I use bold and large font for to make it easy to read.
I am not shouting; and am very calm, and can remain so.

Dear Junaid Tahir,

My response is embedded in your below e-mail.

Response begins with "sv:" and is in color font for easy readability.

I am also Bcc'ing this to a few humans. Some of them may join the discussion.

For their information I will say that the below e-mail is your response to my question:
Being a rational person, why you choose to hold on to Islam?

Hello Suresh,

Thanks for your email dear...

First of all, let us understand the fact all of the religions on earth ask its followers to practice peace, humanity, love and care.

sv: Islam's 1400 years history does not support it. The quotes in Koran, Sura or Hadith do not support it. The sermons in mosques do not support it. I will forward you a couple of e-mails I received today.

Islam's is an Arabic word and its meaning are also "Peace".... Having said that, if you observe some Muslims doing wrong deeds then it's nothing to do with the religion.

sv: Most terrorists of 9/11 and other events in the world and in Bhaarat are Muslims. They even show Koran pages to say that they are doing terrorism as commanded in the Book.

Simply those persons are corrupt and should be punished.

sv: The so called peace loving majority Muslims do nothing to preach peace messages, if any, from Koran to them. Koran also teaches taquiya technique to the Muslims by which they can lie to the kafirs if that serves Islam's interest (darul al Islam, darul al harb). Islam cannot rest till the whole world is brought under Islam even by violence if so necessary.

By the way, if you like, I can bring hundreds of examples from each religion and region who have caused great disasters to humanity however I will not blame the religion, instead the person!

sv: We are comparing the religions as provided in different religions' Books. I know, the people of any religions have some who malpractice or have malpractice-ed their own religion. That is their internal problem. I know for fact that the Hindus have never invaded other countries to force Vedic dharma on the non-believers. This cannot be said about Islam.

Bhaarat or the Vedics have suffered the most since 1000 years from the invaded Islam. This history cannot be denied.

well, about your point that Islam was invaded by force in the region may not be true...

sv: The fact is that Islam has spread by:

1) Forcibly invading other countries and forcing Islam on kafirs. Those who refuse were slaughtered. Now a days invasion happens by migration to other countries. The Zoroastrians from Iran migrated to Bhaarat to save their lives and freedom of religion when Islamists invaded in Iran. My ancestors a few centuries ago also migrated from their homeland in NW India to save their lives and Hindu religion.

2) Marrying multiple wives and producing a large number of children, and then forcing Islam on them. Punishment for quitting Islam is death per Koran. Perhaps that is the reason you cannot give up Islam.

you have read that Muslims invaded Hindus ... well, as per my knowledge this is not true :)

sv: Which history books you have read please? Perhaps this is taquiya technique. Have you not seen hundreds of Hindu temples destroyed by the invade Islamists? Did you not see Taliban targeting Bamian Buddha statue with missiles in recent time? No Hindu invited Islam there. It has invaded by force. The last invasion after 1947 partition was in Kashmir. The Kashmiri Pandits migrated about 20 or so years ago south of Delhi due to the threat from Islamists.

remember, you are reading the books written by your scholars and I am reading the books from my community sv: Which country is that please? Please share ISBN number of such a history book. Truth is only one; and rational people like you need to seek the truth.

and there is no concrete evidence of what is correct and what is incorrect.....

sv: There is a lot concrete evidence of the nature of Islam and what it has done to the kafirs.

Now due to the internet many more intelligent kafirs know about Islam.

So without being judgmental any more about it, let us agree that you and me cannot decide about the past sv: Historical truths are recorded and one can find them if there is a will to do so.

and even you and me cannot change the past sv: True, but we can learn from the past. The kafirs need to learn how to keep Islam out of their country. Of course the Islamists are learning how to invade and do terror on to kafirs and convert them from the past history of Islam.

so why not focus on present and future and think about our generations to come... let us do what needs to be done today to improve things sv: Intelligent kafirs need to expose Islam as it is per Koran and per its history. rational Muslims can give up Islam to set an example for other Muslims. That will cause peace in the world. Of course Hindus need to stop any malpractice of dharma. But even now no Hindu forces or even preaches dharma to a non believer who is not interested.

regardless of what has happened in past without considering any boundary of religion, race, country.

sv: Have you said this to anyone in a mosque or to a mullah? That is where the message need to go; not to the victim kafirs.

Let us not talk about what bad guys are doing to the world because when we think about impurities, we pollute our mind which distracts ourselves from doing positive.

sv: The kafirs need to think about the terrorism coming from Islam, else they will lose their freedom of religion. You are a rational Muslim, and so I am telling you to think about it. Is forcing Islam, your religion, on kafirs good for you when the force it?

I have a very strong belief that the power of good is much greater than the power of bad. Having said that, with our consistent good efforts we can remove the bad from the world and improve the happiness index of the world.

sv: That is why I request the rational Muslims (which are very few like you) to quit Islam. if you are living in Saudi Arabia, you have greater risk for doing so, you know it.

Let us keep it to the agencies to ensure the law and order, sv: In Saudi Arabia, your holy land, there is no freedom of religion. How you like it? Did you make any effort to change it? If you are living in a kafir democracy I am sure you will hire a lawyer if someone challenges your freedom of religion. right?

let us work on the individual level to spread happiness by means of wisdom, mental, economical and moral support through knowledge sharing etc.

sv: The Islamists work organized. So, the kafirs also need to organize to serve their peace and freedom interests.

Overall, my personal approach is that I do not consider any specific religion to improve sv: So then you cannot have hard resistance for quitting Islam. You can quit easily when you know the truth about Islam.

and I do not consider the political situations of different countries instead I consider conveying my message to the whole humanity....

sv: You are not a victim of Islam. You can enjoy the benefit of the activities of Islam silently and safely that way. Would not you be joyous if the world comes under Islam?

Well, if you would like to know my reasons for holding on to Islam, I can give you so many reasons which are based on human logic, authenticated by western scholars, certified by American Universities and laboratories... If you are really interested to know, Let me know and I shall share you the relevant information....

sv: My request to the rational people like you is to make serious effort to objectively compare religions to find which one has more potential to cause peace. I can share the universal criteria for comparing religions when requested.

Finally I would advise you and request you to focus on the steps which are easy and doable..

sv: Comparing religions objectively is doable.

Changing someone's religion would be a very tough approach and may not produce fruitful results :)

sv: Requesting rational Muslims to quit Islam is doable.

Happy New Year.

May all live sin-free.

jai sri Krishna!

It is a VERY well known FACT that the Muslim hordes swept through the ME and parts of Europe with the chilling battle cry "Muhammad's religion by the sword."
